Peer Reviewed Publications

by Scientists at OEHHA

1987 Through 2006

The following is a compilation of the published works of the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) staff in peer-reviewed journals for years 1987 through 2006. In addition to state publications available on our website, OEHHA encourages staff to publish their work in external journals and books. In several cases these publications reflect collaborative activities with other scientists outside of OEHHA. The OEHHA staff (at the time of publication preparation) that contributed to the publication are underlined.
