Good evening, Laurie:

Thank you for the most recent documents.

Attached please find a further recent research paper of relevance to the Bisphenol A consideration.

Every good wish,
Michael

Subject: Bisphenol A - Additional Study Provided to the DART IC

Proposition 65 Listserv
Additional Study Provided to the DART IC

A recently published study of the effects of bisphenol A exposure on maternal and infant behavior in cynomologous monkeys has recently been provided to the DART IC. It was provided since relatively few data in primate models are available compared to the extensive data in rodent models. The study is available at [link 1]. This study was published after completion of the materials already provided to the DART IC to aid in their consideration (available at [link 2]).
